Ninety percent of people reading about Tantra, Kundalini, or The Serpent Fire immediately think about sex, and there is an association with the creative sexual power and the Spine, but it is by no means just that one aspect that makes it a powerful magical and mental tool.

The spine is the original Magic Wand (it even has a point of Light at its tip) but it is also connected to another powerful symbol, the Uas staff used by the priesthood of ancient Egypt. It is the mental, creative and spiritual aspect that is presented in this workshop.

Most people are familiar with the symbol of the snake goddess coiled at the base of the spine, and with the series of chakras or centres that rise along the spine. This force is usually shown as exploding from the Crown Chakra, but I want to put before you another and equally powerful experience that connects the spine and the reptilian brain, the first of our multiple brains and, it can be argued, still a primal, powerful and active part of humanities make up.

So no, you won't be learning new sexual techniques in this workshop, what you will be learning is how to connect with The Point of God at the tip of the Coccyx, and link it to the mental and spiritual creative power of the Kundalini Serpent. You will learn to consciously climb the spiral stairway of the Spine using the Serpent Fire as an aid and experiencing the different powers that are concealed within it. You will establish the symbolic Uas Staff in the spine and awaken the powers of the Sacral, Lumbar, Thoracic, and Cervical areas and how to flow their powers into the Reptilian brain in order to empower the ancestral memories and powers of our ancestors.

Let me warn you that not everyone will achieve great results. A lot depends on your ability to visualise, to create the right perception and belief within your mind, and most importantly to maintain discipline of any powers that do emerge. Make no mistake - this is not a workshop for the faint hearted or for neophytes. Bring with you a small flat cushion or mat, a six inch candle in a holder, and a square of black material large enough to cover the head and face. Leave any inhibitions at home!

The Uas wand is at number 3
